The Canon Academy is seeking students who are:

PROGRAM COMPONENTS:

ONE

HUMANITIES

Students will develop historical skills, using a range of sources to study the ancient past. The study of the ancient world includes the discoveries and the mysteries about this period of history, in a range of societies.

ENGLISH

A range of narrative authors are explored allowing students to experience the ways language can be used creatively to impact readers. Narrative writing skills are developed through the creation, and publishing of short stories.

TWO

HUMANITIES

Geographical skill development focussing on the concept of place through an investigation of liveability locally and globally.

ENGLISH

Students engage in reading a critically acclaimed novel, examining its language features and also its social themes and messages. Discussion and class activities tie to the importance of literary texts in portraying social messages and our capacity as readers to critique such messages.

THREE

HUMANITIES

Students investigate the significant historical beliefs, values and practices of an Asian society, with a particular emphasis on one of the following areas: everyday life, warfare, or death and funerary customs.

ENGLISH

The media forms a powerful force in modern life, communicating a vast array of influential ideas and irrevocably shaping our world. Students undertake an exploration of various media texts, culminating in writing their own text for a public audience.

FOUR

HUMANITIES

Students examine the many uses of water, the ways it is perceived and valued, its different forms as a resource, the ways it connects places as it moves through the environment, its varying availability in time and across space, and its scarcity.

ENGLISH

The modern world is dominated by public speakers who capture our attention, engage our ideas and inspire us to action. Public speaking skills are enhanced through the development and performance of students TED talks.

HOW WE EXTEND OUR STUDENTS:

Debating

Public Speaking

Excursion Opportunities

Guest Speakers

Diverse Range of Perspectives

Autonomy in Learning Process
